Unit 1: Analyzing Author's Purpose and Evaluating Claims in The Omnivore's Dilemma

In this unit, students analyze authors' and speakers' purposes and evaluate the claims they make. Students begin reading the Young Readers Edition of Michael Pollan's The Omnivore's Dilemma (930L), a high-interest literary nonfiction text about where food comes from and how it gets to our plate. As they read the text, they are involved in a study of the author's purpose and how to determine what that is. At the same time, they analyze videos of speeches and interviews on the same topic of food and how it gets to our plate in order to analyze a speaker's purpose. In the second half of the unit, students move on to analyze authors' and speakers' claims and whether they use relevant and sufficient evidence and sound reasoning to support their claims. They also read and listen for the use of irrelevant evidence.

Guiding Questions and Big Ideas

- What journey does food take before it gets to your plate?
- What is the author's purpose? Why did they write that?
- Has the author or speaker used sufficient relevant evidence and sound reasoning to support his or her claim?
- Understanding diverse points of view helps us live in an increasingly diverse society.
- When putting forward an argument, you need to provide relevant and sufficient evidence to support your claims.

Mid-Unit 1 Assessment	Analyzing Author's Purpose in Speech and Text This assessment centers on NYSP12 ELA CCLS L.8.4, L.8.4b, L.8.4c, L.8.4d, RI.8.6, and SL.8.2. There are two parts to this assessment. In Part 1, students analyze the speaker's purpose in a speech and the motives behind the medium the speech is presented in. In Part 2, students determine the meaning of words and analyze Michael Pollan's purpose in a new excerpt of The Omnivore's Dilemma. They also identify conflicting viewpoints put forward in the excerpt and describe how Michael Pollan responds to those viewpoints. In both Parts 1 and 2 of the assessment, students record their thinking on graphic organizers.
End of Unit 1 Assessment	Evaluating Claims and Advocating Persuasively This assessment centers on NYSP12 ELA CCLS RI.8.8, RI.8.9a, W.8.9b, SL.8.2, and SL.8.3. There are two parts to this assessment. In Part 1, students evaluate the claims in a speech and a new excerpt of The Omnivore's Dilemma for sound reasoning, relevant evidence, and irrelevant evidence. Students record their thinking for this part of the assessment on graphic organizers. In Part 2 of the assessment, students advocate persuasively to answer this question in a Fishbowl: Which of the four meals you were invited to choose from at the beginning of the unit would you choose to feed your family? Why? Students prepare notes using what they have learned about each of Michael Pollan's food chains and the four meals so far to help them advocate persuasively and respond to a counterclaim made by another student as they advocate persuasively.

Content Connections

This module is designed to address English Language Arts standards as students read about the topic of food sustainability in The Omnivore's Dilemma. However, the module intentionally incorporates Social Studies practices and themes to support potential interdisciplinary connections to this compelling content. These intentional connections are described below.

Big ideas and guiding questions are informed by the New York State Common Core K–8 Social Studies Framework:

Unifying Themes (pages 6–7)

- Theme 4: Geography, Humans, and the Environment: The relationship between human populations and the physical world (people, places, and environments); impact of human activities on the environment; interactions between regions, locations, places, people, and environments.
- Theme 9: Science, Technology, and Innovation: Applications of science and innovations in transportation, communication, military technology, navigation, agriculture, and industrialization.

Social Studies Practices, Geographic Reasoning, Grades 5–8:

- Descriptor 2: Describe the relationships between people and environments and the connections between people and places (page 58).
- Descriptor 3: Identify, analyze, and evaluate the relationship between the environment and human activities, how the physical environment is modified by human activities, and how human activities are also influenced by Earth's physical features and processes.

Social Studies Practices, Gathering, Using, and Interpreting Evidence, Grades 5–8:

- Descriptor 1: Define and frame questions about events and the world in which we live and use evidence to answer these questions.
- Descriptor 2: Identify, describe, and evaluate evidence about events from diverse sources (including written documents, works of art, photographs, charts and graphs, artifacts, oral traditions, and other primary and secondary sources).
- Descriptor 4: Describe and analyze arguments of others.
- Descriptor 6: Recognize an argument and identify evidence that supports the argument; examine arguments related to a specific social studies topic from multiple perspectives; deconstruct arguments, recognizing the perspective of the argument and identifying evidence used to support that perspective.

Texts

1. Michael Pollan, The Omnivore's Dilemma, Young Readers Edition (New York: The Penguin Group, 2009), ISBN: 978-0-8037-3500-2.

This unit is approximately 3 weeks or 15 sessions of instruction.

Optional: Experts, Fieldwork, and Service

Experts:

- Invite local farmers to discuss their farming methods and how the issues that Michael Pollan discusses affects their food production and their livelihood with the students.
- Invite representatives from grocery stores, including organic and health food stores, to share with students how the issues that Michael Pollan discusses affect their stores and consumers.
- Invite hunters who hunt to feed their families to share their perspective on hunting with the students.

Fieldwork:

- Arrange for a visit to a local grocery store to look at where the produce comes from and the ingredients in different foods.
- Arrange for a visit to a food processing plant to look at what happens to food in a factory.
- Arrange for a visit to farms—for example, a local sustainable farm and an industrial farm—to see how food is produced and to compare the different ways things are done.

Optional: Extensions

- Grow a class garden of basic vegetables and herbs and discuss the different ways to grow food—with or without fertilizers and chemicals. If you have the space and time available, students could grow two gardens—one with and one without fertilizers and chemicals—to compare how those things change how food grows.

Preparation and Materials

This unit includes a number of routines that involve stand-alone documents.

In Lessons 1–13, students read chapters of the text The Omnivore’s Dilemma for homework. As they read, they add to a Food Chain graphic organizer.

1. Reading Calendar

- Students read The Omnivore’s Dilemma for homework for Lessons 1–13. Each night, they read either a chapter or part of a chapter.
- Consider providing a reading calendar to help students, teachers, and families understand what is due and when. See stand-alone document.

2. Food Chain Graphic Organizer

Students will do a “first read” of chapters of The Omnivore’s Dilemma each night. They are given a Food Chain graphic organizer for each of Michael Pollan’s four food chains and each night add to the relevant sections of the relevant Food Chain graphic organizer based on the information they have read and the evidence they find.

The calendar below shows what is due on each day.
You may modify this document to include dates instead of lessons.
