This module uses literature and informational text such as My Librarian Is a Camel to introduce students to the power of literacy and how people around the world access books. This module is intentionally designed to encourage students to embrace a love of literacy and reading. In Unit 1, students will begin to build their close reading skills; students hear stories read aloud and read works in their entirety and excerpts of more challenging writing closely. Students examine the main message in literature about individuals and groups from world communities (including the United States) who have gone to great lengths to access education. Students will practice identifying the central message and taking notes in the provided categories. Then in Unit 2, students will focus more on what it means to be a proficient and independent reader. They will continue to read literature about characters who are motivated to learn to read, overcome struggles to learn to read, or are passionate about books and words. Students will assess their strengths and needs as readers, set goals, and begin the yearlong journey of becoming proficient and independent readers who have their own “reading superpowers.” (The phrase “reading superpowers” is meant to help third-graders understand what is required to demonstrate mastery of the Common Core reading standards.) This unit includes a heavy emphasis on building reading fluency. In Unit 3 (the longest), students will delve into geography, and how where one lives in the world impacts how one accesses books. They will continue building knowledge and vocabulary related to world geography as they study excerpts from My Librarian Is a Camel, which describes how librarians overcome challenges of geography to get books to people. They will apply their learning by writing a simple information report about how people access books around the world, focusing on the role of specific librarians or organizations they studied. This writing will be in the form of a bookmark, which students can then give to their school or local library. The bookmark performance task centers on NYSP12 ELA Standards RI.3.2, W.3.2, W.3.4, W.3.5, and L.3.2.

Guiding Questions And Big Ideas

- What is the power of education and reading?
- How does where people live in the world affect how they access reading and books?
- People across the world and throughout time have sought the power of reading to provide opportunities to themselves and others.
- Powerful readers have and continue to develop a variety of skills.
- Readers can learn about different places and people through a variety of texts.

Performance Task

Accessing Books around the World Bookmark

For this module, each student will create an “Accessing Books around the World” bookmark based on research about selected countries in the text My Librarian Is a Camel and the geography content in Unit 3. Bookmarks will have two sides. On side 1, students will write an informative paragraph that explains about librarians (individual or collective) from a specific country, and how they help readers access books in a unique way. On side 2, students will include a bulleted list about the physical characteristics of the region as well as an illustration that represents the region’s geographical features. The creation of these bookmarks will be supported by the writing process, including opportunities for critique, and culminating in the opportunity to publish and share the bookmarks with readers in their school or local library. This task centers on NYSP12 ELA Standards RI.3.2, W.3.2, W.3.4, W.3.5, and L.3.1.

Content Connections

- This module is designed to address English Language Arts standards. However, the module intentionally incorporates Social Studies content that may align to additional teaching during other parts of the day. These intentional connections are described below.

NYS Social Studies Core Curriculum

- World geography
- Maps/globes
- All people in world communities need to learn, and they gain knowledge in similar and different ways.
- Physical characteristics of a region strongly influence the culture and lifestyle of the people who live there.
